

Create a todo list

Introduction

In this assignment you will create a todo list. The todo list will be a single page application (SPA) that will allow the user to add and delete todo items. The todo items will be stored in the browser's local storage.

Requirements

The page should be populated from javascript. The javascript should be written as modules, and have a separate file for each component. The javascript can be written in typescript.